

Kaiser Will Impress Sultan of Morocco

Spectacular Effort to Raise Danger Signal by Imposing Envoys—Comparison of Kruger Telegram With Tangier Address.

BERLIN, April 27.—It is understood that the German Emperor intends to make the mission to Fez particularly impressive. It will include several highly placed military personages noted for their imposing appearance.

The Berliner Tageblatt fulminates because the London Times has drawn comparisons between the Emperor's visit to Tangier and the famous dispatch which was sent to Mr. Kruger. With typical politeness, the Berlin paper calls the Times an "enge Blatt."

However that may be, immediately after the imperial visit to Tangier, the same comparison exactly was made by the ambassador of one of the powers most interested in the question. Diplomats here agree that no such political danger signal has been raised for a long time. The Emperor is due to arrive at Tangier on Monday and will meet there Count Goluchowski, Austrian minister of foreign affairs.

Mr. Mayhew being some distance away and seeing that he would not be able to get Mr. Davis off the track, called to Special Policeman Genzberger who was near, and Mr. Genzberger ran into the street and dragged Mr. Davis off the track when the car was within a few feet of him. Later Policeman Lyles found Mr. Davis trying to walk into a freight car which was moving. He took charge of him and took him to the station house, where the charge of lunacy was entered against him. QUAKER TEMPLARS TO BE SHOWN ABOUT Mary Commandery, of Philadelphia, to Be Guests of Columbia During Three-Day Stay in Washington. Interesting Program for Visitors.

The Mary Commandery, No. 36, of Philadelphia, will arrive in this city this evening at 5:30 o'clock. There will be 25 persons in the party, all guests of Columbia Commandery, of Washington. They will be here for three days, and will visit all points of interest in and about the Capital city.

The knights are accompanied by their wives and daughters, and will make their headquarters at the Ebbitt House.

Entertainment for Visitors.
Columbia Commandery has made every preparation for the comfort and amusement of the Philadelphians. An executive committee was appointed to make arrangements for visitors, and they have for the past two weeks been arranging a program. Nothing that might prove valuable or interesting has been left out.

An informal reception will be held this evening at the Ebbitt House from 7 until 8:30 o'clock. After the reception the party will visit the Congressional Library in a special car.

Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock the visitors will visit Alexandria and Mt. Vernon. The officers of the visiting chapter will place a wreath on the tomb of George Washington. Leaving Mt. Vernon they will take the boat across the river to Marshall Hall, where a plank shad dinner will be served, returning to the city by boat at 5:15 o'clock.

Reception at Willard.
Tomorrow night after the party has returned from Marshall Hall, a large reception will be held in the Willard

Hotel. During the course of the reception officers-elect will be installed. Saturday morning carriages will convey the visitors to Fort Myer and Arlington. A grand review of cavalry and artillery has been arranged especially for the visitors. The drill will take place at 10 o'clock. After the drill the party will drive through Arlington and view the tombs of noted soldiers. Arrangements have been made to have the party visit the White House, and be shown through parts of the building not usually open to the sight-seer.

At first arrangements had been made to hold a reception at the White House, at which the President would be present. Owing to the President's hunting trip the reception had to be called off. Permission, however, was granted to visit any part of the White House except the private apartments of the President's family.

Trip About City.
On leaving the White House, Seeing-Washington Automobiles will take the party on a trip through the city, and vicinity.

Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, the guests will take their departure. A special train has been chartered to take them back to Philadelphia.

All arrangements for the care and entertainment of the visitors have been made by the executive committee, of the Columbia Chapter, composed of the following: D. H. Fenton, chairman; J. Henry Cunningham, eminent commander; John A. Moyer, captain general; Walter H. Klopfer, S. M. Rider, H. F. Riley, Emmett Carter, C. B. Matthews, A. McKee, and William A. Easterday.

PITTSBURG ORCHESTRA DELIGHTS AUDIENCE

Emil Paur and Mme. Gaski Perform Work That Is a Revelation.

A festival of music was given last night in Convention Hall when the Pittsburgh Orchestra, under the direction of Emil Paur, Mme. Gaski, the renowned Wagnerian soprano, and the local chorus, under the direction of Percy S. Foster, united in a program of rare worth.

Interest centered chiefly in and was shared by the orchestra and Mme. Gaski. It is safe to assume that not one person in the vast hall suffered a vestige of disappointment in either. The orchestra has been heard in Washington many times, but came last night under a new inspiration—the inspiration of Emil Paur.

With nothing more than what seemed to the audience a wave of his hand or a nod of his head the director brought from the orchestra such volumes of music, such delicacy of treatment, such diversity and perfection of technique that one could hardly realize the extreme beauty of the work performed.

Tschaikowski's Symphony.
The chief number was Tschaikowski's Symphony No. 6 (Pathétique). In its first movement the symphony denotes all the dignity and majesty of the composer's motives, the broad scope of his genius, and the high aims to which he aspired and attained. The orchestra's reading of this movement was a gem. It was the most impressive of the four, although in the third Mr. Paur brought out all the technical possibilities of the work and demonstrated to what a point of precision a body of genuine musicians may be brought. The climax of the third movement was almost a revelation in its exactness.

Mme. Gaski's Triumph.
Mme. Gaski's triumph was notable. Her first number was Santa's ballad from "The Flying Dutchman," and throughout the reading of this remarkable work she gave an exhibition of vocal work that appealed to everyone, musician and layman alike. Her voice is as pure and clear as a bell, and has a youthful ring which even her experience in Wagnerian work has not dimmed. Her pianissimo passages were delicately and marvelously illustrated.

Later in the program she gave a group of songs and an encore and at the close of the program she sang Rossini's "Innamorata" with the orchestra and chorus under the direction of Mr. Foster. Unfortunately, this did not prove a happy combination. Mme. Gaski's voice was brilliant and clear, but the chorus sang out of time and made the mistake of reading the text in English while the soloist gave the original Latin. The selection of Convention Hall again proved most inadvisable for many reasons which made themselves manifest.

FAMOUS ATHLETES PAY GLORIOUS TRIBUTE TO PE-RU-NA

As a Spring Tonic to Get the System in Good Shape.

John Glenister, Champion Swimmer and Only Athlete to Successfully Swim Through the Michigan Whirlpool Rapids.

PE-RU-NA

Renovates, Regulates, Restores a System Depleted by Catarrh.

John W. Glenister, of Providence, R. I., champion long distance swimmer of America, has performed notable feats in this country and England. He has used Peruna as a tonic and gives his opinion of it in the following letter:

New York.
The Peruna Medicine Company,
Columbus, Ohio:
Gentlemen—"This spring for the first time I have taken two bottles of Peruna, and, as it has done me a great deal of good, I feel as if I ought to say a good word for its worth."

"During the springtime for the last few years, I have taken several kinds of spring tonics, and have never received any benefit whatever. This year, through the advice of a friend, I have tried Peruna and it has given satisfaction."

"I advise all athletes who are about to go in training to try a bottle, for it certainly gets the system in good shape." Yours truly,
JOHN W. GLENISTER.

Those who lead very active lives, like athletes, with good muscular development, find the spring months especially trying.

Athletes everywhere praise Peruna because they, of all men, appreciate the value of a tonic that dispels physical depression.

The vacation of some men may allow them to endure the depressing feelings incident to spring weather, but the athlete must never allow himself to get "under the weather."

He must keep in the "pink of condition" all the time. In order to do this he must avail himself of a spring tonic upon which he can rely.

Therefore athletes are especially friendly toward Peruna. Peruna never fails them.
